Commentary	Had just started back into trading on 1/29/13 after not watching charts at all since mid-October 2012. The performance reports prior to this week are on the Sony desktop, not setup any longer. Reduced down to a laptop and two 24" screens. Net result of missing trade info was roughly breakeven. Just moved into Pete's house 1/25/13.			Started participating in a thread with Ryan Green about CL analysis and studying market profile more in depth. Was at home and available for all five days of RTH sessions with very few disturbances except conference calls, which I was comfortable trading right through. Keeping up with my wife's TurboFire workouts, getting better. Reading Mind Over Markets. Tried a trial of Fin-Algo's market profile. Jobs in NJ and MD.			Fin-Algo trial ended last Friday. Tried GOM MP instead this week. Had to fly to Austin on Wed Morning and missed the EIA trade day. Thursday had meetings in Austin that kept me from being able to trade as I wanted as well. Got tired of trading late Friday and closed up early. Trying to understand volume ladder still. Only worked out 2 days this week, one in the hotel.
